Marion Town Party Lights up the Night

By Jean Perry

The sky over Marion Center last Saturday night was all aglow. The low-lying, rain-threatening – but thankfully just threatening – clouds were saturated with a hazy orange that emanated from the giant bonfire in the middle of the field beside the Town House. Strings of party lights lit up rows of wooden picnic tables from above and shined down onto the grown-ups sipping cocktails with their neighbors and the smiling faces of little kids eating Mr. Shire's cotton candy at the Annual Marion Town Party. Everyone had a smile – even the bonfire was smiling.

Put on every year by the Marion Recreation Department and the Marion Firefighters Association, the Marion Town Party is a staple of summer in Marion. The Town Party Planning Committee, chaired by Chris Berg,

On the Cover: Now that's a fire! Residents enjoyed the billowing, oh so happy, blaze of a smiley bonfire the night of August 22 during the Annual Marion Town Party. Photo by Colin Veitch does all the planning and executing for the Town Party, which is an ongoing tradition year after year. The event attracts about 250 people to the Center of Marion for the food, fun, bouncy houses for the kids, rock-climbing wall, games, and, of course, the giant bonfire that tops off the night. Proceeds from the event go directly to the Rec Department and the Firefighters Association to directly benefit the town in return.

Donna Hemphill helps out the committee every year, her role being more "behind-the-scenes," as Hemphill put it. She said the party was very well attended, despite the rainy start to the day.

There were a few changes to the event this year, including the use of $1 tickets to use as "currency" at the food table instead of placing an order at the cash table and proceeding to the food table.

"By doing so, we streamlined the entire food service process," said Hemphill. "It was great!"

This was also the second year the event had an ad booklet, and the first year corporate sponsors were solicited to help support the event.

The rain held off for the duration of the evening, and, although it took a little while to get it going, once it was lit, the bonfire was a sight to behold.

"Marion is a great community to be involved in," said Hemphill. "I am not originally from Marion, but I love the sense of community and pride that friends and neighbors have about this town and its people. I am happy and grateful to be a part of such a fantastic event."

The Summer Wind

This Mattapoisett Life

By Marilou Newell

The song Summer Wind, made famous by the one and only Frank Sinatra, spoke of a fleeting romance ignited during the summertime, and then lost. There are other summer songs that come wafting in on warm breezes. Songs like Don Henley's Boys of Summer, Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons' See You In September, the Summer Song by Chad and Jeremy, Sealed With a Kiss sung by Brian Hyland, and, of course, Summer Rain by Johnny Rivers.

How many of us can relate to those free wheeling youthful romances forged in the hot sun while laying on a beach towel next to your heart throb? Yet, somehow, in the back of our minds we knew the heat would peter out by Labor Day. Still, for those blazing moments of fevered passion, we were lost in the thrill – the memory, drifting back into our consciousness on a summer wind.

Oh, I sigh at the memory of my first summer love with the ice cream man. He wasn't really a man, more an older teenager whose summer job was to drive the ice cream truck along the beach boulevard in Onset.

Tommy was an art student whose well-heeled parents mandated he have a common experience of sorts before sending him off to study art in Venice. I don't think they planned that I would be part of that common experience for their precious sonny-boy, but in a very innocent chaste manner I was. We never held hands and never kissed. Yet, for me, he was my summer love.

The ice cream truck moved along slowly, as Tommy jingled the bells manually. There was no such thing as canned music back in those days. The ice cream man pulled a cord inside the cab of the truck, jingling the bells while little children trained like Pavlov's dog came running and screaming "Momma, the ice cream man!" He would stop the truck, pass out ice cream novelties, and then move to the next stop. I met him as I patiently waited at the end of a long line of hollering children and impatient mothers. Our eyes locked briefly but meaningfully, and love at first sight was born.

From the beginning, Tommy spoke to me as if I was important, knowledgeable, and going places when I graduated from high school. He would talk to me about art in between collecting sand-covered coins from little children and red-faced mothers who had just hopped across burning sands and ascended a steep flight of stairs to reach the cool white ice cream truck. On hot, sunny days our conversations didn't last very long, as lines formed next to his truck while he dispensed chocolate-covered ice cream bars, popsicles, creamsicles, and sundae cups.

How I loved cloudy overcast afternoons when Tommy could transport me to the world of art and culture without interruption because the beach was empty. He would expound in grand eloquence all his hopes for the future while sharing all he knew about art and art history. He'd also share difficulties at home, further endearing him to me.

At each stop on his route, he'd pop out of the truck, lean against it dressed in his sparkling white shirt and pants, and continue to fill my juvenile head with thoughts of Gauguin, Michelangelo, Renoir and Picasso. All I knew about art was what little was imparted to us in art class in junior high school. In Tommy, I found my personal art professor, mentor, and, oh yes, my summer love.

I was also working that summer I met Tommy, but I was self-employed. I was the local babysitter and hairdresser for the street I lived on. I made a pretty good living, netting nearly seventeen dollars a week. I took care of the neighbors' babies who always seemed to bawl the entire time their mothers were gone. As the local hairdresser, washing and setting neighbor ladies' hair in rollers and pin curls, I heard all the gossip that was going around. Usually, the theme was which young daughter was up to no good with someone's bad boy son.

My parents frowned upon having a boyfriend at the age of fifteen, so I didn't tell them the real reason I headed to the beach every day, regardless of the weather. My mother would have considered me a "fast" girl. My father would simply have said, "It ain't good." So I fabricated girlfriends that existed only in my imagination. The fact that I never brought any of these girls home to hang out at my house didn't seem to faze my parents. My father was too busy earning a living, and my mother was generally distracted with her own personal problems. I, on the other hand, had Tommy.

As summer burned, the days melted away. My secret meetings with Tommy, which I anticipated in a fever and then relived in detail throughout the evening, were coming to an end. Labor Day would be the official end of summer, and Tommy would head off to college. And I – well, I would be left behind with dreams of rich fabrics, ancient architecture, oils and water-colors, statues, and luminescent glazes. I would be left to imagine Tommy walking cobbled Italian streets carrying an easel and canvas while wearing a painter's smock and a beret.

I don't recall our last meeting, but I do remember that, for a long time, he faithfully sent long letters postmarked "Italia," thick with his lush script, mini-drawings, and scrolls decorating the pages. Each letter swept me away – far, far away.

The school year dragged on, and the boys in my classes seemed so raw, so unrefined compared to my Tommy. No one could measure up. But, truth be told, no one was trying.

I was not a popular girl or a happy girl. I was merely waiting for school to end so that my real life could begin somewhere else, warmed by a summer wind.

For the Love of Books...

By Jean Perry

When 5-year old Kennedy Zussy of Marion overheard her parents talking about how some New Bedford schools don't have a school library for students, Kennedy found it unacceptable. No books? How can kids be smart if they don't have books, the little girl wondered.

"All year, they had, like, six books on the shelf in the 'library,'" said Kennedy, reflecting upon the urgency she felt to take action; for little Kennedy is an avid reader who loves books, loves reading with her parents, and loves learning to read. Her favorite book is Disney's Tarzan, and any Disney book for that matter.

Kennedy's mother, Shannon Zussy, admitted that she was not as enthusiastic as Kennedy in the beginning. With a toddler and her job, she wasn't quite feeling up to the task of driving home the need to the community and calling on people for books. She wasn't quite up to driving to pick books up, either, and lugging boxes of books to whatever schools needed them.

But Kennedy begged her mother to help her reach a goal of collecting 100 new and used books to donate to the New Bedford Public Schools. She begged, and begged, and continued to beg until her mom gave in, created a Facebook page, and started sending the word out to family and friends.

That was back in February.

Within the first two weeks, Kennedy had totally surpassed her modest goal of 100 books; instead, she collected 915 books, including some she bought with her own allowance. By June, Kennedy ended up with a whopping total of 1,342 books.

Kennedy presented the books to the New Bedford School Department in June and was presented with a certificate of appreciation from the New Bedford Public Schools Department. New Bedford City Counselor Steve Martins was impressed by Kennedy's dedication to her fellow young readers, and he invited Kennedy and her family to the City Council Chambers to present her with a citation for her good work.

Kennedy didn't stop there, though. She started collecting even more books over the summer, and as of Monday, August 24, Kennedy had already collected another 487 books – just about halfway to her second goal of reaching another 1,000 books.

However, she better move fast, because, as is the case with most 5-year-old philanthropists, her attention span already has her thinking ahead to the next cause Kennedy wants to take on.

"When I'm bored with collecting books, I'm going to do animal shelters," a confidant Kennedy said, brushing her long light brown hair away from her face and off her shoulders. "I'm going to collect stuff like blankets, pillows, food ... because most animals don't have any shelter."

Establishing school libraries for kids without books: check. Poor shelter animals without blankets or pillows, do not despair. Kennedy Zussy will soon be there.

If you would like to donate any used or new books before Kennedy moves onto the poor shelter animals, Kennedy is collecting books for preschool up to high school age level. You can contact Shannon Zussy via email at szussy82@gmail.com, or you can go to Kennedy's project's Facebook event page, "Kennedys Love for Reading 2."

"We are very proud of her," said Shannon. "She's always had a big heart."

Books make kids smarter, Kennedy firmly believes. She imagines how much smarter and happier other kids will be with 2,000 books. Now, about those animal shelter supplies....

meeting on August 21 to sign an agreement with the Sippican Historical Society to allow a cherished painting by a well-known Marion artist to indefinitely grace a wall inside the Marion Music Hall.

The framed oil on canvas titled "The Redhead" by Cecil Clark Davis (1877-1934) portrays an auburn-haired, finely-dressed female, identified in pencil on the back as Miss Adamson, seated in a mission style armchair at the Hotel des Grandes Ecotes in Paris.

The Sippican Historical Society acquired the piece in 2013. It was cleaned and lined and is mounted in a gilded frame.

Davis was born in Chicago but lived in Marion for many years. She was married to Richard Harding Davis, a famous war correspondent. She studied art under famous portrait artist John Singer Sargent.

The agreement the selectmen ratified Friday morning was contingent upon some changes Town Administrator Paul Dawson had made to the contract, which he called "minor edits." Dawson said Town Counsel Jon Witten had reviewed the agreement, suggested the changes, and the amendments were forwarded to a representative of the society.

"It really was minor edits," Dawson said. "I'm certain that the Sippican Historical Society will have no problem with it." The society could come back in disagreement, said Dawson, but he doubted it.

"The Music Hall Committee is eager to have a piece of artwork that was done by Cecil Clark Davis," said Dawson. He said the loaning of the artwork is for a long-term, potentially permanent basis.

The painting is slated for a wall in the front conference room of the Marion Music Hall.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen is scheduled for September 8 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Police Station conference room.

Marion's Water and Sewer Rates Increased

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Marilou Newell

Interest in the topic of increases in water and sewer rates was expected to bring out the public to the Marion Board of Selectmen meeting on August 25. Only nine residents showed up. But in spite of the surprisingly low turn out, the subject matter was fully vetted.

Speaking first was Finance Director Judy Mooney who explained that rate increases were proposed at 2.5 percent for Tier I and 3 percent for Tiers II and III water consumers. She then stated that a 10 percent rate increase across the board was proposed for those households tied into the municipal system.

"I hate being the bearer of bad news," said Mooney. "If this rate doesn't go through, the state will not approve the enterprise funds.... If this doesn't go, an even larger increase is in the future."

Mooney said, in real terms, a household of four would see an increase of $4.19 per year in water bills and $22.70 in sewer expenses. She further cautioned all in attendance that, although the evening was dedicated to looking at just fiscal year 2016 budget needs, FYs 17, 18, and 19 would see even higher rate increases.

"If we don't have a rate increase in FY16, it impacts things we've already put in place," Mooney said.

Chairman Stephen Cushing asked, "What if we put off a rate increase, we'd be in line for a bigger increase?" Mooney replied, "We'd have to make up four quarter billings in a three quarter cycle."

A driving point in sewer rate increases is the NPDES permit looming in the imminent future, and the town is anticipating this to equate to higher costs in processing sewage. The town's current permit requirements are being handled, said Selectman Jonathan Henry, but new, stricter EPA requirements will affect costs — how much is presently not known.

Resident Jay Ryder then came forward to share information he had found from a Tighe & Bond study. Ryder said, "Annual water rates (in Massachusetts) are $112 to $1560. The average is $532, and Marion's are the second highest. Sewer rates go from $221 to $1,874 with an average of $756. Marion's are the third highest." Asking Mooney he inquired, "Can't we pay for these some other way?"

Mooney came back to the microphone with this response, "You've got Tabor Academy, why aren't we getting a PILOT payment in lieu of taxes?" She continued,

"There are 36 properties, at the current rate that comes to $836,000 we could be receiving ... I'm throwing it out there ... their children are going to Sippican School without paying taxes."

Henry responded, "PILOT program is an old issue.... A new Board of Trustees at Tabor will deal with local issues which is new ... it's an open issue."

Henry also pointed to the fact that most cities and towns don't go it alone when it comes to water and sewer service, but those that do are facing the same issues that Marion is facing – higher costs to provide services.

In the end, Chairman Cushing called for a vote. The increases were unanimously approved.

The next scheduled meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen is scheduled for September 8 at 7:00 pm at the Police Station conference room.

My dog itches almost constantly in the summer and fall and loses hair over his back near his tail. A friend said it could be caused by fleas, but I rarely find more than one flea at a time. Any thoughts?

Your friend may be right. Many dogs and cats are allergic to flea saliva. All of the changes in your dog's skin can be caused by 1 flea bite a week. Cats with flea allergy dermatitis tend to get small scabs all over their body. Treatment involves strict flea control in your home as well as on your pet. Bobola, the building inspector.

The main issue: DaRosa's application to build a private pier across an easement. Both appeals were combined, as agreed by all parties, due to the similar nature of the appeals, that being Bobola's interpretations of building codes and zoning bylaws.

"We believe it's an erroneous application of bylaws for this pier," Gushue stated, suggesting that Bobola's interpretation of the town's zoning bylaws was an attempt to stop DaRosa's right to build the accessory structure. "This is a violation of their equal protection rights." Gushue said, from his reading of the bylaws, there was no provision in them that would restrict the issuance of a building permit.

The bone of contention is whether or not a homeowner can build an accessory structure across an easement; in this case, traversing beach property owned by someone else in order to build a private pier to reach the water.

Bobola wrote a letter in May to the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection handling DaRosa's Chapter 91 Waterways license application, in which he explained that the DaRosa property was not waterfront property and, as such, could not build an accessory structure on an easement they had been granted. Gushue called it an "unprecedented denial."

But Bobola asked the board to imagine if accessory structures were built all over town on easements; consider the negative impacts they would have on the community and residents' enjoyment of their property.

Regarding Bobola's further assertion that DaRosa lacked the appropriate setbacks necessary for building an accessory structure on his own property, Gushue said, "He is just searching for some reason to deny the pier."

Gushue asked the board members to search their consciences, telling them that they had taken an oath to apply rules equally for all residents.

"You took an oath to render a fair and impartial decision," said Gushue. "Can you look at yourself in the mirror in the morning?" He continued, "There has been much organized opposition, even in Town Hall." Gushue provided evidence that another pier had been built in the 1990s and had been constructed across an easement; therefore, DaRosa should be allowed to do so as well.

"So, because of the other pier in 1998, we should permit this one?" asked ZBA member Susan Akin.

"We are going to go by current zoning, not 1998." She emphasized that the DaRosa property was landlocked.

Bobola said, for 31 years, he has striven to apply building codes and zoning bylaws with an even hand, and he took umbrage to Gushue's comments. He then explained his rationale for the letter to the DEP that was written with the guidance of town counsel, and his refusal to issue a building permit.

"I remain open minded," Bobola said, concluding his comments. But he noted that DaRosa had not provided complete documents as required when requesting a building permit. It was missing a decision from the Conservation Commission.

That remains an open issue in DaRosa's proceedings. A decision by the DEP regarding an appeal by the Town and the Conservation Commission to the DEP's superseding orders is still pending. Gushue advised the board that he had received verbal confirmation that the DEP would render a decision in favor of DaRosa's application.

Several residents came forward to voice their concern with the proposed construction, again, citing various wetlands issues, recreational use of the waterways where the pier is proposed, and the lack of DaRosa's direct waterfront access.

Bobola told the members of the ZBA that DaRosa should appeal his denial of a building permit to the state building authorities and not the local zoning board.

Akin closed the public comment segment of the hearing and the board debated the merits of DaRosa's appeals.

In the end, the board agreed with Bobola that DaRosa's property was landlocked and, therefore, could not receive a permit to build a pier across an easement. They also agreed that they could not hear the appeal regarding the denial of a building permit, since it was beyond their jurisdiction and it needed to be heard by the

No Touching Trees in the 20-foot Buffer

Rochester Planning Board

By Jean Perry

Nearly 30 residents let their concerns be known on August 25 before the Rochester Planning Board during the first public hearing for the large-scale solar energy facility slated for the Center of Rochester.

There were a number of concerns, mostly about screening around the site to mitigate the site view from various points in the center of town, but no problems arose that could not be considered or investigated by the seemingly willing to cooperate representatives from Renewable Generation, LLC.

Planning Board Chairman Arnold Johnson started off by addressing the residents: "This is a sensitive project, and people have very strong opinions," and he reminded them, "We do not pick the projects put before us."

Almost immediately, Johnson began listing components of the submittal he said were missing, and Bill Madden of G.A.F. Engineering and Amelia Tracy of Renewable Generation started to take notes on Johnson's requests.

Johnson asked for soil testing, a list of waivers for the project, a rendering illustrating the sight view from various angles, and a shading plan, among other things. Johnson gave the developer an arbitrary timeframe of early October for a continuance of the public meeting and demanded that all materials completed for submission be delivered to the board at least two weeks prior to the first October meeting.

The public was allowed to speak first, though, and Madden, Tracy, and Renewable Generation President Jacob Laskin were able to address the concerns and take them under advisement.

Some questioned the selective cutting of trees within the 20-foot vegetative buffer surrounding the five acres of solar arrays. The project calls for the cutting of trees taller than 20 feet in height to prevent shading on the arrays. Board member Gary Florindo was passionate when he spoke of the history of some of those trees, especially the large “majestic” ones at the cemetery. But it was Johnson who decidedly told the developer that he would not allow any cutting within the 20-foot buffer.

Florindo said anybody could purchase that property and develop it into anything that is sanctioned under the limited commercial zone, and they would be required, under the bylaw, to maintain a 20-foot “no touch zone” buffer around the perimeter.

“And here you come along,” said Florindo, “... and tell us in that 20-foot vegetative boundary, anything over 20 feet we have to cut.” He continued, “For that group, leave it alone. For you, go ahead and cut them?”

Florindo said the board should hold the project to the same rules and regulations that anybody else in that room would have to follow if they were to develop that property.

“I’m with Gary that the 20-foot buffer is an absolute ‘no touch’ zone,” said Johnson. “Visibility is a big thing with us.” As Johnson listed the missing parts of the project submission for the site plan review and the special permit request, Johnson told the developer that all components need to be submitted together and ahead of time when the hearing is opened again in October.

“We’re not gonna piecemeal this ... because then we have to backtrack ... and it’s your money we’re spending on him,” Johnson said, pointing to Ken Motta, engineer hired on behalf of the board.

At one point, Johnson added that no pile driving or pounding of steel posts into the ground would be allowed when constructing the foundation for the solar arrays. The only method the board would allow would be to auger the foundation, which is drilling holes into the ground and then inserting the posts for the foundation.

Former Planning Board member Susan Teal said, at first, as a close neighbor to the project, she was disappointed that a solar facility would be established in the new limited commercial zone rather than mixed-use retail and housing buildings and shops. But, as she pointed out, those uses of the land would also require clear-cutting of the woodlands and the toppling of some of the older, mature trees.

"And instead of solar panels, you'd have parking

But, frankly, as a person who lives just down the road, I got kind of pleased with this because it doesn't require any water..." – their children would not be attending the schools, there will be no water use, no strain on the infrastructure, no light, and no noise.

"Rochester was a lot more cleared a hundred years ago," said Teal, although she said she was bothered that some old trees would be taken down. Otherwise, aside from screening concerns, she said she had a really hard time opposing the project. "I [just] don't want to see it."

Ecosystem Solutions regarding encroachment issues at properties located on Seabreeze Lane. On this evening, he was specifically representing John and Cheryl Anzaldi, 3 Seabreeze Lane, in their request for an amended order of conditions.

Anzaldi also requested permission to remove invasive species from the no-touch zone of the wetlands that has been encroaching an area that had been turned into a groomed lawn space with plantings, and he requested the installation of a post and rail fence to denote the re-established jurisdictional wetlands.

Robin Lepore, 6 Seabreeze Lane, was also present to remind the commission that there remains an unresolved issue regarding an easement through 4 Seabreeze and a small corner of 3 Seabreeze – an easement that seems no longer available to the residents of the development.

On this matter, Chairman Bob Rogers said the commission was awaiting a ruling from town counsel on how to proceed, and that he and Conservation Agent Liz Leidhold would have a conference call with town counsel the following Monday.

Regarding the Anzaldis request for an amended order of conditions, the commissioners requested that Faneuf return with a new plan of record noting such items as the placement of a fence and signage marking the re-established no touch zone, the request for invasive species eradication into perpetuity, and a request for a permit extension. The hearing was continued until September 14.

Also on the agenda was the commissioners'

Board Stalls on New Tobacco Legislation

Marion Board of Health

By Jean Perry

The Marion Board of Health formed a consensus on increasing the minimum age for purchasing tobacco and nicotine products in town from 18 to 21, but some board members hesitated on placing minimum prices on or banning all flavored tobacco and nicotine products from behind the counters of Marion stores.

Bob Collett, director of the Cape Cod Regional Tobacco Control Program, had the draft legislation in hand on August 25 for Board of Health members to vote on, but board members Dr. John Howland and Albin Johnson were reluctant to take action that evening.

"I'm a little hesitant to regulate prices on things," said Johnson. "I think our biggest issue is making it twenty-one."

Johnson said he was in favor of including e-cigarettes and other nicotine delivery products in the 21 and over law, "But once you start naming specific products, it's a slippery slope," said Johnson. "It's too difficult to regulate."

Collett's defense for adding at least the minimum pricing to the age minimum, if not the total ban, was that these products are specifically targeted for those under 21. Making the product less accessible would inhibit their use by young kids.

"The likelihood of a person twenty-one or older buying this product is much less than a sixteen- or seventeen-year old," said Collett.

Kathy Wilbur, program manager of the Tobacco-Free Community Partnership, said she leads several youth groups, and the number one reason that kids said they tried smoking was because of the flavored tobacco. Wilbur said, when questioned if they would have tried smoking tobacco without the added flavors of bubble gum, cotton candy, sour apple, or cherry, there was a resounding no.

"Twenty-one, while it is a step in the right direction, it's not a silver bullet," said Wilbur.

"Unfortunately, kids under twenty-one are going to get their hands on flavored products as long as they're on the shelves. We like the flavor ban with the twenty-one, to make the strongest possible defense against kids becoming addicted."

Health Director Karen Walega said she would prefer seeing the minimum age increased to 21, along with a flavored tobacco and nicotine products ban included in the legislation.

"I say go for the whole thing," said board member Betsy Dunn. "I say go for the blunt wraps, the flavored tobacco, all the e-cigarettes..."

Johnson and Howland remained united in their front to keep the legislation strictly to the age minimum, but Howland did state that he was prepared to vote either way.

"As a conservative idiot, I like to keep things as simple as we can," said Howland. "And logical. Practical."

The board will consider the legislation language in the weeks leading up to their next meeting and, once legislation content and language is chosen, the board will hold a public hearing on the new tobacco and nicotine regulations to give residents a chance to speak.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Health is scheduled for September 8 at 4:30 pm at the Marion Town House conference room.

News Submission Policy

The Wanderer gladly accepts any and all news and press release items from local non-profit organizations for publication on a weekly basis. The deadline for submission of news items is Monday at 12:00 noon for publication in that week's edition. Due to the increasing number of submissions, however, publication of press material is never guaranteed. The Wanderer will make every effort to publish timely news items and announcements as the subject warrants and as often as spacing allows. All press material must be submitted in writing via fax (508-758-4845), e-mail (news@wanderer.com), or mail (The Wanderer, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739), and must be typed or word-processed. We cannot accept any handwritten material or news items via telephone, no matter how brief.

Photographs of area events and newsmakers are also accepted and encouraged. The Wanderer accepts well-lit and clearly-defined color or black and white photographs for publication, provided that they include a brief summary of the event or subject. Due to processing and/or cropping requirements, we cannot return photographs. Please make sure you retain your negatives or have a copy made before submitting photographs for publication. Like news items, the deadline for photos is Monday at 12:00 pm, and the publication of photographs is also subject to spacing constraints and therefore cannot be guaranteed.

All submitted copy is subject to alterations and/or condensation as space allows at the editor's discretion. All submissions become the property of The Wanderer and are assumed to be submitted for the purpose of publication. Submissions cannot be returned; therefore, please make sure to retain copies and/or negatives before submitting anything for consideration.

The Wanderer also reserves the right to deny publication of any submitted correspondence.

Dear Mattapoisett Water Commissioners:

I am writing this letter on behalf of the Angelica Point Improvement Association, Cove Street, Mattapoisett, MA. As you are aware, the Water/Sewer Department has just finished a new sewer installation and a water main replacement project on Cove Street. This letter pertains to Nick Nicholson and the superb job he did as Superintendent of the Water/Sewer Department representing the Town of Mattapoisett.

I started working with Nick about seven years ago when I approached him regarding the desire of our association to have sewer installed on Cove Street. Nick knew the Cove Street environment would be a challenge for sewer installation approval; however, he understood the benefits to the town and the residents in doing so.

During the following years, Nick worked closely with all the regulatory commissions and state departments to push the project forward towards approval. He was diligent and steadfast in his efforts to work on our behalf. If Nick encountered a road block, he used his extensive background knowledge to address any concerns so they were allayed.

Once the project obtained all necessary approvals, Nick worked to obtain the necessary funding. His warrant articles at Town Meeting were clear, concise, and well presented which resulted in his obtaining the necessary funding we needed for the next step.

Nick was instrumental in organizing and preparing two "Informational Sessions" for the residents of Cove Street. He worked with us to obtain any questions we may have had regarding the sewer installation and he ensured our questions were answered by the appropriate person at the meeting. It was of great comfort to all of us to know Nick took an interest in our issues and they were not ignored.

When the project started, Nick would be seen walking Cove Street along side Pat Sheridan and KRR, the contractors. He remained an integral part of the team even during the implementation and installation phase of the project.

Nick is the consummate professional. He has the right temperament to handle a job that is complex and to handle people whose personalities are complex.

Thank you, Nick, for your commitment to your job and your commitment to getting us sewer and a new water main.

Sincerely yours,

Alice McGrath

To the Editor:

I want to voice my concerns about the condition of the grounds at Old Rochester Regional High School. It is deplorable! Everything is overgrown, the four ponds are not being taken care of, and bushes, trees and plants need to be replaced. 2nd Annual Adam Bomb Motorcycle Run

On August 30, area motorcyclists will gather in a fundraising run to honor the memory of Adam Taylor with the proceeds going toward children and teens in the local area. Taylor was a resident of Acushnet who lost his life in November 2013 after he was involved in a car accident caused by a drunk driver on Route 140 in New Bedford.

Motorcyclists riding to benefit the Adam Taylor Memorial Fund, which sponsors scholarships, student financial aid services, awards, and Toys for Tots for children in the local community, will take to the roads on August 30. Tickets are $20 per person and must be purchased in advance from the Ponderosa Sportsman Club, The Rivers End. Rider check-in is 10:00 am ET; kickstands up at 11:30 am. The start of the run will be at The Ponderosa, 242 Robinson Rd, Acushnet and will conclude at The Madeira Feast Grounds, 50 Madeira Ave, New Bedford. The ride is organized to continue to share the love Adam poured into his family, friends, and community. He was always willing to help anyone, and his friends and family want to continue his tradition of selflessness to others.

All non-riders are invited to meet at the Madeira Feast Grounds at 1:30 pm where there will be food, raffles, a cash bar, and live music. Everyone is invited to come and celebrate the life of a 23-year old man who loved his community before he tragically lost his life.

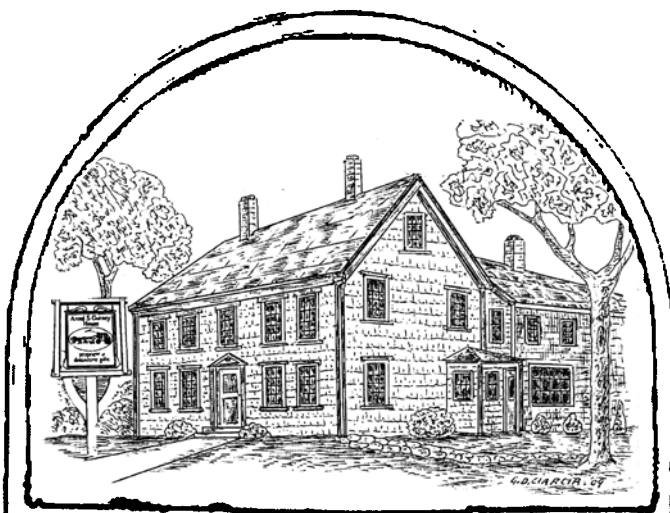

About the Adam Taylor Memorial Fund: The Adam Taylor Memorial Fund was founded by close family and friends who wanted to keep Adam Taylor's selfless love alive after his untimely death. Adam lost his life at the age of 23 after a car accident, which involved a drunk driver. The Memorial Fund supports the education of local area youths through scholarships and providing student financial aid services. The Foundation has also supported The Veteran's Memorial, Lions Club, Veterans

Marion Republican Town Committee

The Marion Republican Town Committee will conduct its next monthly meeting on Tuesday, September 1 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Music Hall, 164 Front Street, Marion. The public and new members are welcome.

YMCA Afterschool Program

When the school day ends, children need opportunities to learn and engage in meaningful activities. Their success out of school can have a positive effect on their success in school. Unfortunately, one in four U.S. children is left unsupervised after 3:00 pm, according to Afterschool Alliance, a nonprofit public awareness advocacy organization. To help youth reach their full potential, YMCA Southcoast is offering afterschool programming that supports social-emotional, cognitive and physical development.

The Y's afterschool program offers activities in a caring and safe environment where all youth can achieve, feel like they belong, and build friendships. Youth in Y afterschool programs demonstrate improvement in the skills needed for successful living and in academic proficiency. As a leading nonprofit committed to youth development and a pioneer in afterschool programs, the Y believes in supporting the holistic processes that all youth experience – from birth to career – to support success in school and life.

"When the final school bell rings, continued learning opportunities can have a positive influence on how well youth perform in school," said Kathleen Treglia, Executive Director of Education for YMCA Southcoast. "Afterschool programs also fill gaps in schools and communities where some recreational opportunities like

Studies show participation in afterschool programs helps boost school attendance and academic performance and reduces gaps in academic achievement among children from disadvantaged households.

YMCA Southcoast afterschool programs offer homework help, a healthy snack, a balanced educational curriculum and an opportunity for recreational activities in the Y pool, gym, sports fields and climbing walls. The YMCA is adopting a set of Healthy Eating and Physical Activity standards in our afterschool programs that will build a healthier future for our nation's children by ready for a great season. Old Rochester varsity football players will be there to do a warm up and help run the practice! We will have drill stations to test speed, accuracy, strength and endurance. At each station you will be timed or measured to see how you complete the drills.

Players who register for the season will be given a NFL Patriots shirt and Flag Belt. Practice and games are on Sundays from 9:00 - 10:30 am at Mariner Youth Soccer Fields. Drill sessions are followed by 5v5 games. Program runs September 13 - November 1; cost is $80. We look forward to an exciting football season. Register for Fall Flag Football at www.mattrec.net or at the instructional clinics. The program is open to Tri-Town residents and surrounding communities.

A Collaborative Effort between Tabor and NOAA

This summer, Tabor Academy collaborated with NOAA's Tim Anderson in studying ocean currents in our area. Utilizing the SSV Tabor Boy, Tim Anderson oversaw the deployment of two NOAA drifters and a drifter built by Tabor students last fall.

Oceanographic drifters are simple free-floating instruments that transmit their own positions via satellite. The drifters are used to observe ocean circulation patterns and currents. Here on Buzzards Bay, they are performing the valuable task of working to validate ocean current circulation models in our home waters, providing NOAA and Tabor students with useful data.

This collaborative project between Tabor Academy and NOAA/NEFSC began a year ago when Tabor's Marine Science faculty members Jenny Albright and Kimberly Ulmer met up with Jim Manning at the Woods Hole NOAA office during their summer study research visits. Albright and Ulmer brought back the idea of Tabor students building and deploying oceanographic drifters and then studying and contributing the data.

Tabor's drifter was designed and constructed by SSV Tabor Boy Captain James Geil's Theoretical Ship and Boat Design class last fall. From the student designs, a prototype was built and tested, and then implemented during the Tabor Boy new student orientation program this summer starting with voyage one in June. Jim Manning took an interest in the data being collected and suggested to Tabor that they deploy all three drifters to make a comparative study throughout the summer.

Along with Tabor, and the team at NOAA, you can track the progress of the three drifters (updated by satellite every few hours) on the following Google map link http://www.nefsc.noaa.gov/drifter/drift_tabor_2015_1.html

St. Philip's Annual Hymn Sing

The Rev. Jeffrey Cave, Retired, Diocese of Atlanta GA and author of "The Church by the Town Beach" will conduct services at 8:00 am and 10:00 am on Sunday, August 30 at St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Mattapoisett. All are invited to attend.

Then, at 4:30 pm, The Rev. Cave will lead a Hymn Sing with anecdotal comments on many favorites. Requests from the congregation are encouraged. Following the informal Hymn Sing, a reception will follow in the side yard. All are welcome!

2nd Annual Summer Bike Challenge

On Saturday, September 19, cyclists from 14 area communities will ride to the YMCA Dartmouth to celebrate the completion of the 2nd Annual Summer Bike Challenge. Over 110 cyclists have ridden over 56,000 miles since May 1 and hope to reach 60,000 miles by Labor Day for the South Coast Bikeway Alliance Team which is part of the National Bike Challenge. Riders will gather at the YMCA Dartmouth's Fall Festival and be recognized for their accomplishments. Over $1000 in prizes will be awarded. Prize categories include: Top Male and Female Overall, Second and Third Place Overall and Top Male and Female in each community. Additionally, the community that logs the most miles (per capita) will receive a trophy. Come see what the South Coast Bikeway Alliance is doing towards their goal of achieving a 50-mile continuous system of bike paths and bike lanes that will connect Rhode Island and Cape Cod.

What: South Coast Bikeway Alliance Bike Challenge Awards Ceremony; Date: Saturday, September 19; Where: YMCA Dartmouth, 276 Gulf Rd., Dartmouth, MA 02748; Time: 11:00 am. Cyclists are encouraged to ride their bicycles to the event!

We can continue to log miles for the National Bike Challenge, which concludes on September 30 (nationalbikechallenge.org). The SCBA Team is ranked 27th in the National Bike Challenge at the time of this writing. Congratulations are due to the entire SCBA team whose efforts have placed SouthCoast at the head of all Massachusetts teams participating in the National Bike Challenge. For more information about joining the ride to the event as it goes through your community, please contact selectemanBobEspindola@gmail.com, call 774-263-

Centennial Savings for New NBSO Subscribers

The New Bedford Symphony Orchestra is celebrating its 100th season by offering savings of up to $100 to 100 new season ticket subscribers.

This special 100th birthday offer means further savings beyond the NBSO's usual subscription discounts of 20% savings on seven-concert series and 10% on six-concert series. Additional discounts of $100 per couple will be applied to Sections A and B pricing, while Sections C and D concert series tickets will be discounted an additional $50. The first 100 new subscribers are eligible to receive the additional discount by calling the NBSO at 508-999-6276.

Opening night is only one month away! On September 19, the festivities begin with the party of the century at 5:30 pm at the Star Store (special event tickets required; call the NBSO for details, 508-999-6276), then at 6:45 pm free birthday cake will be served in front of the Zeiterion Performing Arts Center to all concertgoers, followed by the 7:30 pm blockbuster performance at The Z of Berlioz, Sibelius & Dvořák with guest soloist Martin Chalifour performing the Sibelius Violin Concerto. Purchase individual concert tickets – $25–$60, or $10 student tickets (not available online) – through the Z box office, 508-994-2900, or online at www.nbsymphony.org.

The New Bedford Symphony celebrates its 100th anniversary this 2015-16 season! In 1915, New Bedford schoolteacher Clarence Arey founded a symphony orchestra to bring classical music to our region. Today, the NBSO is a superb professional orchestra that performs with internationally renowned guest artists, annually presenting a seven-concert series of classical and pops music and a four-concert chamber music series, as well as providing nationally recognized educational programs for the children of South Coast. You deserve a symphony in your life – the New Bedford Symphony! Visit us at www.nbsymphony.org.

Hammondton School. Classes are perfect for beginner gymnasts as well as students with previous gymnastics experience. Qualified instructors will work individually with each gymnast on all four gymnastic events: Floor Tumbling, Balance Beam, Bars and Vaulting. Tumbling classes are designed for any gymnast or cheerleader interested in working solely on their floor tumbling skills. Cost is $140 for the eight-week session.

Tennis Lessons: Wednesdays from 4:30 - 5:30 pm for ages 5-8 and from 5:30 - 6:30 pm for ages 9 & up at the Hammond Street tennis courts. Session runs from September 2 - October 7. Summer session filled quickly; sign up online to avoid being waitlisted.

In Center Stage Kids – our new Fall Drama program – children will learn about various aspects of the performing arts and have an opportunity to participate in a theatrical performance at the conclusion of the eight-week session.

Other fall programs we are now accepting registrations for include: Creating Concoctions Part 2 and Introduction to Portuguese. Coming soon: Golf and Fit Kids training program.

Tobey Hospital Guild

The Tobey Hospital Guild, a member of Southcoast Health, will hold its annual fundraising event on the evening of Saturday, September 19 at the Marriott Town Place Suites' Rosebrook Event Center in Wareham. The event will feature "Lights Out," a Las Vegas group that will have you dancing in your seats to the tunes of Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons. Proceeds from this event will be used to help pay-down the $250,000 pledge the Guild made to help renovate and expand the Emergency Department at Tobey Hospital. For more information, please call 508-973-5752.

Sippican Choral Society

The Sippican Choral Society begins the 2015 - 2016 season with its first rehearsal on Monday, September 14 at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church in Reynard Hall, located at 27 Church Street. New members are welcome to join the chorus simply by coming to the one of the first three rehearsals, September 14, 21, and 28.

Rehearsals begin promptly at 7:30 pm every Monday evening, but singers are asked to arrive by 7:15 pm for their first rehearsal in order to register and receive music. Membership is $35 per semester. All voices are welcome (soprano, alto, tenor, and bass), and no auditions are required. As always, everyone who has sung with the chorus in past years will be welcomed back. This year, the chorus is especially inviting back anyone who has sung with it at any time over the last 50 years.

Under the direction of its new Music Director, Dr. Tianxu Zhou, the chorus will be rehearsing for its 50th annual Christmas Concerts, which it will present on Friday evening, December 4, at Grace Episcopal Church in New Bedford, and at Tabor Academy's Wickenden Chapel in Marion on Sunday afternoon, December 6.

These concerts will feature the chorus's most popular Christmas music over the past half century, beginning with Vivaldi's "Gloria," with orchestra accompaniment. Other music will include "O Holy Night" arranged by John Rutter, "Sleigh Ride" by Leroy Anderson, "Still, Still, Still" arranged by Norman Luboff, the hauntingly beautiful "In the Bleak Midwinter" by Christina Rossetti, and "Prayer of the Children" arranged by Andrea S. Klouse.

The chorus once again will be joined by the Southcoast Children's Chorus under the direction of Leslie Piper, which will perform several pieces. Both choruses will then perform three pieces together: the popular "Hope for Resolution" by Caldwell and Ivory,

Obituaries:

Arlene Clement Dexter, a young at heart 99, of Mattapoisett passed away peacefully on June 18, 2015 at home. Born in Hallowell, Maine, she was the widow of William Nye Dexter of Mattapoisett. Arlene was a graduate of Hallowell High School and Gates Business College. She lived in Maine until moving with her husband to Mattapoisett permanently in 1964. Arlene was a certified appraiser, a member of the N.E. Appraisers Association, and the proprietor of the 1812 House Antiques in Mattapoisett. She was active in the antiques world for over 65 years, selling from her shop, at shows and on the Internet well into her 80's.

Arlene was an active volunteer for Girl Scouts, American Red Cross, and the Mattapoisett Council on Aging FISH Org. She was past treasurer of Mattapoisett Historical Society, a member of Historic NE, Old Dartmouth Historical Society and Mattapoisett Women's Club.

She is survived by her daughter Betsy Dexter Ose and son in law Stanton Donald Ose of Bristol, RI and her grandsons Erik Dexter Ose of Chapel Hill, NC and Cranston, RI, Jared Alexander Ose of Providence, RI, a great grandson Griffin Phillip Wright Ose of Cranston, RI. and several nieces and nephews. A memorial service to remember and celebrate Arlene's life will be held on Thursday, September 10 at 2 pm at Ned's Point Lighthouse in Mattapoisett or in case of rain at the Mattapoisett First Congregational Church with a reception immediately following. Donations in her name to the Mattapoisett Historical Society, 5 Church St. Mattapoisett would be welcome.

Nicholas Carr Bergstein, aged 20, died unexpectedly of a sudden illness on Tuesday, August 18, 2015. He leaves behind his parents Vickie Carr and Paul Bergstein of Mattapoisett.

Nick graduated in June of 2014 from Old Rochester Regional High School. He planned to become a high school history teacher and had just finished his freshman year at UMass-Amherst with honors.

He was a member of the Debate Team for all four years of high school. He was also vice-president of his freshman class, and remained in student government throughout high school. He received the Principals Choice award in his freshman year for the student who showed the most promise.

Nick was also a member of the Southeast Regional Student Advisory Council (SERSAC) which provided direct involvement in statewide decision-making in education. He was a member of the Mock-Trial Club. He also volunteered at the food pantry, tutored elementary school students in Marion, and volunteered to do child care at the Unitarian Universalist church. During the summer, he worked for his Uncle Robert Bruno as a parking attendant at Live Nation Events, where he was supervisor of Handicapped Parking.

Nicholas was beloved by many, including his grandmother, aunts, uncles and most of all his parents. From the day he was born at Brigham and Women's Hospital, three months early and weighing only 14 1/2 ounces, his parents thought they were given a miracle - in that he not only survived, but that he thrived in this life.

Nicholas enjoyed wildlife of any kind. He loved writing and frequently wrote poems and stories. He loved spending time with his family, as well as many friends. When Nick was preparing his college applications, he was asked to list his three best traits and to describe himself in five words. Nick chose his "curiosity, intelligence, and integrity" as his best traits and chose "engaged, self-motivated, creative, dependable, and cooperative" to describe himself. He was all of those things, and so much more.

His Memorial Service will be held on Monday at 11 AM in the Unitarian Universalist Church, 102 Green St., Fairhaven. Burial will follow in Cushing Cemetery, Mattapoisett. Visiting hours will be on Sunday from 4-8 PM at the Saunders-Dwyer Home for Funerals, 50 County Rd., Route 6, Mattapoisett. In lieu of flowers, the family asks that donations be made to a memorial scholarship being established in Nicholas's name at UMass-Amherst. Gifts should be sent to: UMass-Amherst, Records & Gift Processing, Memorial Hall, 134 Hicks Way, Amherst, MA 01003-9270. For directions and guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com

Elisabeth (Rockafellow) Dyer passed away peacefully at home on November 20, 2013 in Sun City, California. She was 96 years young and was the loving wife of Ralph Dyer for 45 years. Born in San Acacio, Colorado in 1916, she was the eldest daughter of four children of the late Charles and Hildegarde Rockafellow.

Elisabeth (known locally with admiration as Betty Prewitt before she remarried) was formerly a Marion resident for over 20 years and an active member of the community. She taught at the Loft School in Marion for 12 years, was a leader of the Mariner Seafaring Scouts and a co-founder of the Marion Art Center in 1957.

She is survived by a son, Peter Prewitt of Simsbury, Connecticut and a daughter, Elisabeth Suzanne Peterson of Marion; a sister, Louise Crow of Greenwich, Connecticut and four nephews and one neice; three grandchildren - Heidi Nye of Marion, Derek (Peterson) Oppedisano of Laguna Niguel, California and Timothy Prewitt of West Hartford, Connecticut. Also survived by four great-grandchildren, Jessica and Jared Nye and Rocco and Enzo Oppedisano and one great, great granddaughter, Makaylee Melcher.

A Memorial Service and Internment was held with family and friends in Princeton, New Jersey in the Spring of 2014.

"Carol Him Sweetly" by Ruth Elaine Schram, and "Do you Hear What I Hear" by Harry Simeone.

The concert will conclude with John Rutter's wonderful benediction, "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," which concluded many of the chorus's Christmas concerts under the direction of Peter West in the 70s, 80s, and early 90s.

Now beginning its 51st season, the 90-member Sippican Choral Society is under the direction of Dr. Tianxu Zhou, with Michelle Gordon as accompanist. The group performs at least two concerts every year, singing the works of the world's great composers, as well as popular music. No auditions are necessary to sing in the chorus.

For further information about singing with the Sippican Choral Society this year, please call Peter McDonald (508-748-0286). If you plan to sing this season, but cannot make the first rehearsal, please let Peter know.

MOVIE REVIEW

On the Road Again

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith (1978). Starring Tommy Lewis and Freddy Reynolds. Directed by Fred Schepisi. Running time: 120 minutes. MPAA rating: R.

In the otherwise forgettable 1985 potboiler Badge of the Assassin, there's an exchange between a black cop and a black revolutionary that I think of often (it was also used as a sample in the incendiary 1992 single "Guerrillas in the Mist," by Consolidated ft. Paris). The cop tells the revolutionary that what he did "doesn't make any sense." The revolutionary shouts, "It do not have to! It only has to get noticed. They have to understand — oppressing people costs!" Well, those last three words could serve as leitmotif for America these last few years, and also for the morally complex 1978 Australian drama The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith. This film, perhaps still the greatest of Aussie cinema, is recommended to anyone who doesn't understand why Ferguson burned — why it had to.

It's the turn of the century in Australia, and eager young Jimmie Blacksmith (Tommy Lewis), a "half-caste" (half white, half Aborigine), goes from one job to the next, being denied full proper wages for the work he does for casually racist white landowners. It gets harder and harder for Jimmie to hold his placatory smile in place, especially when he marries a white woman (Angela Punch) and she gets pregnant. Jimmie can't support a wife and child on what he makes, and pretty soon some local women conspire to make sure Jimmie no longer even gets groceries in exchange for services rendered. The agenda, it's clear, is to send Jimmie back to the squalor he's trying so hard to transcend.

Jimmie has rejected the black world — the Aborigines are required to live in repulsive circumstances — and won't be accepted into the white world. He's a true nowhere man, and it drives him insane. He goes to the house of those meddling local women, accompanied by his not-entirely-with-it uncle, and before anyone knows what's happening Jimmie has killed or maimed several of them with his axe, leaving only a crying infant alive. Thus begins a terrible, personal war on whoever has slighted Jimmie, and along the way he no longer leaves infants alive. He's too far gone. The movie in no way justifies his rampage, but it has patiently laid the sociological groundwork so that we understand why it happened. Oppressing people costs.

Released in America two years after its Australian premiere, Chant was a calling card for the strong director Fred Schepisi, who soon moved to Hollywood; his best-known mainstream film is probably the superb Steve Martin rom-com Roxanne. Here, Schepisi works in a classical style, no funny business with the camera or with editing, just a clean and horrifying account of a man breaking down in insupportable conditions, his anguish both mocked and heightened by the wide-open spaces preserved in flawless widescreen compositions. The movie is gorgeous pure filmmaking even when we wince at the violence — and we do, because Schepisi doesn't present it as cathartic or exciting. Especially not cathartic. Jimmie goes over the edge and it does nothing for him other than to get his cheerful half-brother (Freddy Reynolds) killed and to get his own face half shot-off.

Based on a novel by Thomas Keneally (Schindler's List), which in turn was based on a true story, the film might these days, in more sensitive times, be called "problematic": After all, does not Jimmie fulfill the whites' jaundiced view of him as a savage? Yes, he does, and that's the tragedy. Jimmie wanted so badly to be welcomed into white society (he was raised by a white minister and his wife), and when he was systematically rejected, he had no self to fall back on, no identity other than the "other" he was shown that he was. He had no choice but to become the "black bastard" his world insisted upon. The Chant of Jimmie Blacksmith is both a national epic and a national nightmare, and of course the nightmare extends beyond Australia. It may trouble the sleep of anyone who is part of the white-privileged group, who scoffs at "Black Lives Matter," who has knee-jerk racist panicky reactions to the mere presence of black people because they know deep down that oppressing people costs, and who knows when the bill will come due?

The Buzzards Bay Coalition is hosting its annual Golf Outing at noon on Tuesday, October 13 at the Bay Club at Mattapoisett. All proceeds from the event will go into a dedicated fund to support projects that stop nitrogen pollution – Buzzards Bay's largest pollutant – from reaching New Bedford Harbor.

For golfers, it's a rare opportunity to enjoy the private Bay Club's parkland-style 7,100 yard course, designed by PGA Tour professional Brad Faxon in conjunction with golf course architect Brad Booth.

"We're looking forward to a great day on the course at the Bay Club," said Buzzards Bay Coalition Vice-President of Development Marc Bellanger. "The Golf Outing is a fun way to support a great cause, and we love seeing so many golfers out there participating. We are happy to once again be partnering with the Bay Club on this event. They've earned Silver Certification recognition from Audubon International demonstrating that environmental sensitivity and sustainable practices – including fertilizer reduction – are a top priority."

Golfers can register online, individually or as a foursome, at www.savebuzzardsbay.org/golf.

Call for Artists

The Sippican Lands Trust (SLT) and the Marion Art Center are partnering to sponsor an exhibition of art created by local artists to highlight the many scenic sites that comprise the Lands Trust's forests and marshes. The Lands Trust invites everyone to walk the trails, get some exercise and be inspired by the beautiful views on the many trails maintained by the Trust.

Local artists are invited to submit up to three works, in any media, for a non-juried exhibition to be held at the Marion Art Center, October 2 through November 14. All submitted works must depict scenes of or views from SLT properties. The Marion Art Center will receive a 30% commission on the sale of each piece. There will be a special "Young Artists" division within this exhibition. Young artists in elementary school, middle school and high school are invited to submit one piece for the exhibition.

Trail maps of the Lands Trust properties are available at the SLT offices, 354 Front Street, Marion (next to Uncle Jon's) or on-line at www.sippicanlandstrust.com.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A relaxed mood early in the week could give way to high-temperature disputes. The Aries Lamb should resist being pulled into heated quarrels that could really singe your wool.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Satisfy that practical obligation first, then you can feel free to indulge in your creative endeavors. Also, check for hidden or overlooked areas where repairs might be long overdue.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Home is still the Twins' major focus this week. But outside matters begin to take on added importance, especially those involving possible career moves. Stay alert for signs of change.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A travel plan might need to undergo some considerable adjustment because of unexpected changes. Keep an open mind and let the facts guide you on how you want to handle this.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Playing cat and mouse with a matter you don't really want to tackle wastes time, energy and, most important, an opportunity. Ask someone with experience to help you get started.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A shift in policy might not please you, but before you put up a "no go" wall of resistance, examine the circumstances. You might be quite pleasantly surprised by what you find.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Yesterday's critiques about your methods might have already evolved into today's praise for your achievements. Good for you. Now go on and continue to build on your credibility.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) An occasional temperamental flare-up might occur as you continue to help get things back to normal. Stay with it. You should soon get some idea of where to take things next.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A negative reaction to what you believe was a well-deserved request might mean that you need to reconsider your position and make changes accordingly.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) There's always room for someone new at the Sea Goat's table. And the someone new this week could bring a message you've been waiting a long time to hear.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A pile-on of personal matters this week might seem too overwhelming to deal with. But handling them on a one-by-one basis could have you out from under it by the weekend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A friend might need your good advice regarding a matter. Be supportive. But unless you can be absolutely sure you have all the facts, be careful about any suggestions you might be asked to offer.

BORN THIS WEEK: Few things make you happier than bringing people together and helping to forge new friendships.

Online Voter Registration Now Available

Secretary of the Commonwealth William Francis Galvin is pleased to announce that online voter registration is available in the Commonwealth through the portal launched by his office. This important advancement will make registration easier and more convenient as well as cut costs relating to the printing of voter registration forms.

Massachusetts citizens can apply online by visiting Secretary Galvin's website at www.sec.state.ma.us and clicking the "Massachusetts Register to Vote Online" button to access the online application system. Any Massachusetts citizen who has a valid identification card issued by the Registry of Motor Vehicles will be able to use the online system to apply to register to vote, update their address, or change their party enrollment.

Massachusetts citizens who do not have identification issued by the Registry of Motor Vehicles can still complete an application online which they can print, sign and mail or hand-deliver to their local election official.

With the Presidential Primary only eight months away on March 1, 2016, now is the time to visit Secretary Galvin's website to check your voter registration status and make any updates as necessary.

Bike for Clean Water

Fall is the perfect time to hop on your bike and enjoy the outdoors here in southeastern Massachusetts. If you love to ride and want to make a difference for your local environment, then sign up for the ninth annual Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride on Sunday, October 4 by visiting www.savebuzzardsbay.org/ride.

The Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride is a fun community event that supports a great cause: clean water in Buzzards Bay. More than 150 cyclists participate in the Watershed Ride each year, pedaling across the beautiful Buzzards Bay region to protect clean water.

Whether you're an avid cyclist or a more casual rider, you'll enjoy the Ride's gorgeous scenery through coastal villages, farmlands, working waterfront, and colorful cranberry bogs. Choose from a 75-mile route starting in Westport or a 35-mile route starting in Rochester. Both routes end with a seaside finish line party on Quissett Harbor in Woods Hole that includes dinner, drinks, and live music.

The Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride attracts expert and casual bike riders alike. Cyclists ages 12 and over are welcome to sign up. Many riders also form teams with their friends and families. Together, they put their cycling skills to work to raise thousands of dollars for Buzzards Bay. With a lunch stop, water and snack stations along the course, and on-the-road repair technicians available at call, all riders can feel safe and supported.

Each rider raises a minimum of $300, but many participants set loftier fundraising goals. All funds go directly to programs and projects that protect land and clean water around Buzzards Bay.

your free copy.

The directory, published by the League of Women Voters of Marion-Mattapoisett-Rochester, contains the names, addresses and phone numbers of Tri-Town residents as well as community pages that provide contact information for community services. Advertisements by local and area businesses and professionals are found in the yellow pages and make the book a useful shopping service. Please support our advertisers who have made this phone book possible.

Every effort has been made for accuracy in the book. Any corrections, additions or deletions should be sent by email to lwvphonebook@comcast.net or by postal mail to LWV Phone Book, P.O. Box 812, Marion, MA 02738. The new information will be added to the online version of the book which can be found at www.lwvmmr.org.

Extra copies of the 2015-16 directory are available while they last at The Bookstall in Marion, Mail Boxes in Mattapoisett and at the Plumb Library in Rochester. While a resident's delivered book is free, the League would welcome a donation of any amount for an extra copy.

The League of Women Voters is proud of this community service and is grateful to our advertisers for their support of the project.

Old Rochester Farmers' Market

The Old Rochester Farmers' Market runs every Tuesday from 3:00 - 7:00 pm outside the ORRHHS. This year's market will have two produce farms, Cervelli's and Skinny a Dip (organic); Sweet and Salty Farm which has veal and yogurt; Wyandotte Farm with chicken and a variety of other meats; and Robbins Trout Farm with fresh-harvested trout. The market also has cheese, bread, honey, oils & vinegars, fresh ground coffee, sweets (also gluten free and vegan options), homemade pies, sweet and savory cinnamon rolls, freshly popped kettle corn, organic baby food, barbecue sauces, soups, toffee, jams and herbs. Additionally, artisan vendors with soaps, candles, skin products, jewelry, roped nautical items, and organic and gluten-free pet treats. Lastly, the market will include healthy option food vendors and Running Brooke Vineyards winery. We also welcome weekly guest vendors. Come check us out – an event the whole family can enjoy with musical entertainment and free face painting!

Youth Orchestras Announce Auditions

The New Bedford Symphony Youth Orchestras will hold auditions for the 2015-16 season on September 3, September 9, and September 10 at the UMass Dartmouth College of Visual and Performing Arts. Now entering its eighth season, the Youth Orchestras rehearse weekly at UMass Dartmouth and perform several concerts throughout the year, including at the NBSO Holiday Pops Concert where Symphony student players sit side-by-side with New Bedford Symphony professional musicians.

The NBSYO now boasts five ensembles in which students can participate. The Symphony, Repertory, and Debut orchestras welcome auditions of strings, winds, brass, and percussion players. The brand new Preparatory String Ensemble welcomes strings players to audition. Poco Strings requires no experience or audition, just registration for students to learn to play violin.

Become a Volunteer Baywatcher with the BBC

Do you love the water and want to help protect it? Volunteer as a Baywatcher with the Buzzards Bay Coalition in your community this summer! The Coalition is looking for dedicated volunteers to help monitor the health of local waterways across the Buzzards Bay region.

The Coalition is looking for Baywatchers to monitor the water in the following locations:

- Falmouth: Mashapaquit Creek, Quissett Harbor, Rands Harbor, West Falmouth Harbor and Wild Harbor River
- Bourne: Back River, Briarwood Center, Eel Pond, Phinneys Harbor and Red Brook Harbor
- Wareham: Agawam River, Broadmarsh River, Onset Bay, Shell Point Bay and Weweantic River
- Rochester: Sippican River
- Marion: Blankinship Cove, Hammett Cove, Sippican Harbor and Wings Cove
- Mattapoisett: Brandt Island Cove, Eel Pond and Mattapoisett River
- Fairhaven: Little Bay and Nasketucket River
- New Bedford: Acushnet River, Clarks Cove and New Bedford Harbor
- Dartmouth: Apponagansett Bay and Salters Pond

The Baywatchers program is the largest volunteer-based coastal monitoring effort in New England. Through the Baywatchers program, the Coalition monitors all of Buzzards Bay's major rivers, coves and harbors – an area covering more than one-quarter of the Massachusetts coast. The data collected through the Baywatchers program form the foundation of the Coalition's efforts to restore and protect Buzzards Bay.

Baywatchers volunteer approximately one morning per week from May to September at a designated location in their community. Using a water testing kit, Baywatchers collect samples and measure salinity, temperature, water clarity and dissolved oxygen at the site. Baywatchers receive training prior to volunteering and do not need a science background.

If you're interested in becoming a Baywatcher, contact Director of Monitoring Programs Tony Williams at 508-999-6363 ext. 203 or williams@savebuzzardsbay.org. For more information about the Baywatchers program, visit www.savebuzzardsbay.org/baywatchers.

Millicent Library Storytime

Fall Storytimes begin the week of September 13.

You do not need to register for Storytimes.

Programs are held downstairs. Stories and songs last for 30 minutes and are followed by 15 minutes of play time. Please try to arrive on time. If no one arrives by 15 minutes after start time, the program will not be held.

Toddlers (ages 1-3) meet from 9:30 - 10:15 am OR 10:30 - 11:15 am on Tuesdays. Babies (0-18 months) meet Fridays from 9:30 - 10:15 am!! Big Kids (ages 3-5) meet Fridays from 10:30 - 11:15 am. Siblings are always welcome! Toddlers and babies enjoy play time after stories, while Big Kids make a coloring project OR enjoy play time.

NO STORYTIMES during the weeks of October 18, November 22, December 20 and 27.

Programs are held in the downstairs auditorium.

The Millicent Library is handicapped accessible.

For further information, contact Jane Murphy at 508-992-5342 or at jmurphy@sailsinc.org.

SouthCoast Toastmasters Speak Their Minds

The SouthCoast Toastmaster's Club, also known as Marion Toastmaster's Club is a public speaking, communications and leadership organization which meets the second and fourth Thursday of each month from 12:00 pm (noon) to 1:00 pm at the Wareham Library, 59 Marion Road, Wareham, MA.

Come and experience what happens at our meetings! We have a vocabulary word of the day, a joke of the day, two 5-7 minute prepared speeches, two minute extemporaneous speaking sessions and evaluations of what just happened. The meeting is one hour. Come and BRING your brown bag lunch.

Get over your jitters and gain more confidence in your presentation skills. Bring a friend. For more information, call 508-292-6706 or visit our web site at <http://southcoast.toastmastersclubs.org/>.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the August 20, 2015 issue the Aardvark was on page 57!
